

Environment policy

The environmental challenges in our world are many and interlinked.

Air pollution caused into deaths, and millions people still do not have access to safe drinking water and adequate sanitation.

Added to these, releases of hazardous chemicals, climate change, effective engagement of the public in decision-making and access to environmental information and justice are among major concerns we need to address urgently.

To meet these challenges we work to improve the environmental situation with our projects and to reduce pollution and the damage it causes.

We believe that dealing with people, nature, and energy in a way that preserves resources will pay off in the long run.

Therefore, we make no short term decisions, but always consider the consequences of our actions.

The Statement of Environmental Policy will be communicate to all sites and workplaces.

The organisation and arrangements for implementing the Policy will also be available at each site and workplace for reference by any employee as required.

Andreas Zanni
Managing Director